What is SAT?

The SAT is a paper-based standardized test required for application to most colleges and universities in the United states. Higher SAT scores will increase your chance of securing college admissions.

The SAT is graded on a 1600-point scale. It consists of Math and Evidence Based Reading and Writing sections that range from 200-800 points each.

Section	Time	Question Types
Math	One 55-minute Section with Calculator One 25-minute Section without Calculator	Tests real-world problem solving accompanied by informational graphics Multiple choice and grid-in questions and one enhanced grid-in question
Reading	One 65-minute Section	Tests understanding of passages from U.S. and World Literature, History / Social Studies, and Sciences (500-700 words)
Language and Writing	One 35-minute Section	Tests "Expression of Ideas" and "Standard English Conventions" through passages relating to Careers, History/Social Studies, Humanities, and Science
Optional Essay	One 50-minute Essay	Tests reading, analysis, and writing skills; requires students to analyze a source document and explain how the author builds an argument
